STONINGTON - DCJ

Along the coast of Maine there are many towns that have escaped the "progress" that has destroyed a quality of life that has been the good fortune of New England. The town in our photos is well off the beaten path, even in Maine. No one just happens into Stonington. You go there because someone tells you that there is "a town that time forgot". Ten years ago this was a town that was just beginning to erode. It was possible then to stroll through the town with the illusion that you were in a time and converted to summer dwellings.

Today, 10 years later, the charm remains but not quite the same. Still there is the marvelous harbor with giant rocks upon which sit the fishing shacks. Still, at 4 a.m. there is the mufled thunder of boat engines as the lobstermen strike out for the traps. Even now the tide rises in spectacular fashion and no tourist traps exist. Quite the contrary, in the entire town there are 2 small motels and one rooming house for those who do happen in and want to spend the night. The entertainment in this spot is purely visual. It is the perfect place to aim a camera and to spend a quiet interlude.

To reach Stonington you turn off Route 1 before you reach Ellsworth and take Route 15 toward the coast. Stonington is the outer island of 2 islands off the peninsula. Deer Island is reached by a bridge and is connected to Stonington by

He asked the Selectmen if the assessed value of property in the Flood Plain should be used on the 50% criteria on any rebuilding. The Selectmen agreed that the assessed figure was the fair way to judge the value. Selectman John DeCosta moved that the assessed valuation be used as the appraised value, effective immediately and it was so voted unanimously.

HORSE FLY CONTROL

Mr. Dan Daly, Selectman of Carver, and Plymouth County Mosquito Control official asked Selectmen how much of an issue the the greenhead fly (horse fly) is in Mattapoisett. He said the County has been taking measures to control this pest since the 1970s and still is actively engaged in the effort. He explained that the County has found the best method is a box that stands on 2 x 4 legs that from a distance, to a horse fly, looks like a cow. The bottom of the box has screens that slope inward toward the center. The fly seeking the "belly of the cow" lights on the screens and goes up into the box where it can't find its way out.

He said that the County would install such traps in problem areas at $100. per trap if the town would provide winter storage. Selectmen Chairman William Hubbard said there is a problem in the Mattapoisett Neck area, particularly around the river at the town landing. Mr. DeCosta moved that the town mosquito control people be asked to suggest problem areas. The Board of Selectmen agreed that they would support the control project.

Free Cash figure for the Town of Mattapoisett at $377,454. Chairman Hubbard remarked that he would have loved to have had that figure at the Town Meeting. "With the new computer system", he said, "we may be able to come closer to an estimation of the Free Cash figure in the future." Mr. Hubbard said that he would like to go to a town meeting with a "much more accurate figure".

SAILBOARD REQUEST

In a letter to Selectmen, Mr. Richard G. Cann requested a meeting with the Board to discuss next year's regulations concerning the launching of watercraft at Ned's Point.

He also requested the support of the Mattapoisett Selectmen for a sailboarder's application to the state to open Horseneck Beach to wind surfing next year. He said that in many ways it is a superior site for the sport and would relieve any possible pressure at Ned's Point.

Selectman Bernard Talty said that he felt that "we shouldn't look at next year until an evaluation is complete of this year's" (sailboarding at Ned's Point).

Mr. DeCosta said that he would support

Marion Selectmen's Meeting

SEPTEMBER 20, 1988-by EUNICE MANDUCA

A Community Service of the Area League of Women Voters

Attorney Kim Marrkand, appearing to represent Philip Georgas of Planting Island Road, requested a variance for a septic system which was a continuance of the hearing on June 28, 1988. Although Ms. Marrkand brought engineers to testify as to the proper design of the system in question, the Selectmen voted to continue the hearing to October 4 in order to give them, as the Board of Health, time to check out some areas in question, particularly the Coastal Bank delineation as presented.

Several residents of the Hill, Oak and Green Streets area appeared to question the holdup on work on their streets. Chairman Ted Pratt informed them that there was a threat of a suit by a voter. It was stated that the Planning Board could not require 40 foot rights of way from developers for roadways if the town, on its own roadways, settled for a 20 foot right of way with 16 feet paved. It was agreed that the Selectmen will appear before the Planning Board to request a special permit to complete the streets in question. These roads became town property in the 1950s in a tax taking. Work will continue in moving poles and laying water lines. The Selectmen agreed with the residents that the entrance of Hill Street onto Route 6 is very dangerous and they will attempt to better the situation by widening the curb cut but it will always be a serious traffic problem.

Bruce West, Jack Cheney and Jan Mendes, with Bill Saltonstall representing the Village Post Office Study Committee, brought the latest figures to the Selectmen. Ray Pickles, Executive Secretary, gave each person present a copy of the Special Town Meeting Warrant. The meeting will be on October 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Sippican School Auditorium. Article 1. To see if the Town will vote to instruct the Selectmen to propose Taber Hall as a location for a United States Post Office; or take any other action thereon. Article 2. To see if the Town will vote to transfer from available funds the sum of $5000 to allow the Selectmen to prepare a proposal for the use of Taber Hall as a U.S. Post Office, or take any other action thereon. Although the Committee has not had much time to develop a study it was necessary to schedule the Special Town Meeting so soon because the Post Office Department has only agreed to postpone the decision on the new location of the Post Office to the first of November. Members of the Committee will present their materials to the voters and Mr.

Saltonstall will have some projections to show. There will be a preliminary meeting with the Planning Baord and the Finance Committee on October 4. Voters are urged to attend the October 11 meeting at Sippican School at 7:30 p.m.

The Executive Director of the Southeastern Mass. Area Health Education Center, (A.H.E.C.) Patricia McPartland appeared before the Selectmen to discuss some problems in the rental arrangement which her organization has with the Town. The A.H.E.C. occupies space in the southwest portion of the Town House. As part of its rental arrangement it also supplies a copy machine for the use of itself and the Town of Marion. The Town has been assisting A.H.E.C. by stamping and delivering A.H.E.C. mail to the Post Office. In order to clarify bookkeeping procedures it has become necessary to make some changes in this casual approach to business. The Selectmen voted to deny Ms. McPartland's request for a reduction in rental fees.

LETTERS: From Richard Duffy, Director of the Beach Program, a report that the program was understaffed because of the salary rates which are not competitive with surrounding towns. He has completed 13 years as Director.

Yes, we do accept LAYAWAYS.....30 DAYS only!

We are hoping this event brings out the whole town on October 1st at Old Hammondtown School. And who wouldn't want to come when there's an old-fashioned harvest celebration with a delicious spaghetti supper, square dancing and fun outdoor activities for the kids.

Everyone has a favorite pie recipe, so the PTC is holding an apple-peach- or pumpkin pie contest. Judges will be picked from a hat and the three first prize winners will receive an Old Hammondtown School Cookbook, so pull out that tasty pie recipe and give it a try!

Children's amusements include pony rides with Cindy Souza, three-legged races, sack races, dunking for apples, grape races, face painting, and doughnut chasing.

Our door prize is a bushel basket overflowing with autumn produce: apples, pumpkins, gourds, Indian corn and dried flowers. Some raffle items include a case of all natural soda, a welcome board, dried flower wreath, a night at the Reed family Edgewater Inn, Fairhaven, and a hydrangea plant.

All this fun starts at 4:00 with supper and field day activities, at 6:30 p.m. for square dancing with caller Paul Letourneau

eye talk

Q. My niece has an eye coordination problem. What is that?

A. Our two eyes must work together so that we can see one picture, not two. When they don't, we have poor eye coordination.

Some people with this condition see double, although the brain usually solves double vision by turning off the picture from one eye.

Often signs of eye coordination problems include headaches; dizziness; fatigue; irritability; and reading difficulty.

These can also be signs of other problems, however. A thorough eye examination is the only way to know for sure if an eye coordination problem exists.

Your optometrist can improve and often permanently correct poor eye coordination with vision therapy, a program of specially prescribed visual tasks repeated under controlled conditions. Sometimes glasses or contact lenses may also be prescribed.

Letter to the Editor

As recycling again comes to the forefront as a critical need, a number of coastal towns, including Marion, are exploring possible recycling options.

Marion, as well as a number of surrounding towns, are under contract to SEMASS to incinerate trash. On a recent tour of the SEMASS facility several recycling committees learned of a recycling program planned by SEMASS for the future.

In the meantime, other possibilities are being explored. Many of the contractors who in the past have paid for newspaper, glass and metal are no longer able to do that on as profitable basis. Contact has been made with Cape and area towns to explore the possibility of joining together to be more attractive to contractors. Mass Crinc of N. Billerica is being contacted to see if they might have a role in recycling in our area.

There are towns such as Wellesley who have very successful methods of handling trash, to include the resale of books at the parklike setting of their landfill. Towns and cities all over the country are beginning to report successful programs of dealing with trash and recycling.

According to a recent article in Time magazine, we discard 1,547 pounds of waste for every man, woman and child annually. Conservation, in addition to recycling as many of our products as possible, is the need for the present and the future. Using cloth napkins instead of paper, buying a gallon of Windex and dispensing it into a smaller container, rather than purchasing several smalier containers, makes good economic sense as well as good environmental sense.

Mattapoisett resident Peter West recently graduated from the first year program in Piano Technology at the North Bennet Street School in the historic north end of Boston.

Formerly known as the North Bennet Street Industrial School, it has served Boston residents for over 100 years pioneering the concept of placing students in a classroom with a master for the sole purpose of learning a trade. The school's emphasis has shifted from pre-vocational training for children through vocational training for the thousands of immigrants arriving in Boston to the highly specialized craftsmanship taught in the various departments today. starting September 29th. Chairperson for the event Sue Beth Fair has estimated that as many as 7500 volumes will be offered at bargain prices of 10, 25 or 50 cents, depending on classification. The 3-day event will take place in the lower level stacks room at Southworth Library, 732 Dartmouth Street.

Mrs. Fair and her volunteer team of assistants, comprised of Board members of the sponsoring organization, Friends of the Dartmouth Libraries, have spent many weeks screening all the used books for quality and cleanliness and sorting them by subject matter and type. For the convenience of buyers, the various classes will be designated on the display tables. A very select few books in like-new condition or 'coffee table' volumes are being offered at $1. each, while sets of encyclopedia are priced at economical 'bulk rates'.

An added special feature in this fall sale will be a public offering of a unique 'book checkbook', an ingenious system for recording loans of books, utilizing attractive bookmarks for the recipient while providing a record for the lender who enters data on the stub of the bookmark 'check'. "MAGELLAN" ON MAYFLOWER II

Thanks to an enthusiastic public response, Plimoth Plantation has scheduled a second performance of storyteller Jay O'Callahan's "The Strait of Magellan" for Sunday evening, October 2nd, at 7:30 p.m. aboard the Mayflower II in Plymouth Harbor.

"Magellan" tells the compelling tale of Ferdinand Magellan, who solved the riddle of the passage to the Pacific. The achievements of the greatest sailor of his time had been one of the great untold stories until renowned teller Jay O'Callahan shaped it into a dramatic narrative.

O'Callahan will unfold that narrative under the stars on the deck of Mayflower II Friday evening, September 30, and repeat his performance Sunday, October 2nd;

PSATS AT ORR ON OCTOBER 15

The PSATs (Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test) will be administered at Old Rochester Regional High School on Saturday, October 15th. College bound juniors and sophomores at ORR should plan on taking the PSATs at that time. The test will be given from 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. in the ORR Cafeteria. Students must sign up by October 11th in the Guidance Office and pay a fee of $6.00.

There are several important reasons why students should take the PSATs:

1. The test will provide information about a student's mathematical and verbal skills.
2. PSATs are practice for the SATs needed for college admission.
3. The College Search Service allows students to identify colleges offering programs in which they are interested and receive

MATTAPOISETT LOTS AVAILABLE

RICOH, XR-10

The world of photography has been undergoing some pretty dramatic changes. Some of them are marvelous (cameras are more dependable-easier to operate) but some have been very disturbing. Lately, we have seen a widening void in the "mid-price-range" camera. There are many at $250 or less and no shortage of those in the $500 and up class but with the passing of the AE-1, A-1 and many others it's become increasingly difficult to find a quality product in the $300 range. Happily, it proved difficult, but not impossible. RICOH has filled the void with their exciting XR-10 which is now in stock. It's FILLED with features.... fully programmable, self timer, exposure compensation, lightweight, very simple to understand AND... best of all, it sells (camera and lens) for just $259.95. We don't think you can beat it. Come see.

opportunities that are available to them through the National Guard. This is a great opportunity for Old Colony students to ask questions before they make any decisions about their future.

FRESHMAN PARENTS' NIGHT

The Guidance Department at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School will conduct its Second Annual Freshman Parents' Night on Wednesday, September 28th, at 6:30 p.m.

According to Paula Simmons of Old Colony's Guidance Department the program will provide parents with an overview of the educational philosophy and policies of the school. In addition, parents will go through their child's entire exploratory program in order to learn the unique features of each vocational facility.

The exploratory program at Old Colony allows every freshman to be introduced to four of the school's twelve vocational programs. At the end of the eight week exploratory program the students are better prepared to make a permanent career selection.

At the Parents' Night instructors will be available to present their related and shop programs and to answer questions pertaining to occupational opportunities available he earned his diploma in Fine Arts. After graduating he found that his illustration teacher, Ken Laager, was looking for an assistant. Mr. Schmehl accepted this "apprenticeship" for a year and credits the job with giving him enough experience to work as an illustrator.

John Zolomij, curator of the Raymond E. Holland Automotive Art Collection, Allentown, PA. and a friend of the artist's parents, gave Mr. Schmehl a commission for a painting of an early auto race. The work was a Christmas present for the founder of the collection, Raymond E. Holland. Mr. Holland enjoyed the painting so much that he commissioned over thirty-five more paintings relating to early autos for his collection. Heritage Plantation is indebted to Mr. Zolomij and the Raymond E. Holland collection, as well as the artist, for making this fine show available for exhibition here. Some of Mr. Schmehl's paintings are for sale and may be purchased through the Museum Store.

Membership, as well as admission tickets to the Museum for the day, will be honored for this show, and will include admission to all the Museum buildings, exhibitions and grounds. Tickets are $6. for adults, $5. for senior citizens, children under 12 are $2.50, five years and under are free.

AMELIA JONES AT HOME:
A LOOK AT AESTHETIC INTERIORS OF 1880s

The Rotch-Jones-Duff House and Garden Museum, in cooperation with the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, will open an exhibition of photographed room interiors of the Post Civil War period in America. The photographs will provide insights to the cultural and aesthetic taste of the period in American history when the country became industrialized and urbanized. The photographs will allow the viewer to compare Victorian interiors of Boston's Back Bay houses with room interiors of the Rotch-Jones-Duff House during the exact same era.

Authentic room environments will be created by the Museum's curatorial staff which will visually relate to the photographs of interiors on display. Paintings, furniture and decorative objects from the Museum's collection will be exhibited to achieve this effect.

The Museum will provide a series of Gallery Talks in connection with the ex-
